Strategy & Vision

Your current score in Strategy & Vision is 5/10, reflecting early awareness of AI's role but lacking clear direction or urgency. As this is a first-time assessment, your baseline indicates some understanding of AI trends, yet a gap remains in translating insight into a compelling AI-first vision. Prioritizing the articulation of a concise AI transformation roadmap and communicating its urgency company-wide will be critical. Given your industry (software development), this foundational work will set the stage for rapid progress in other areas.
